Dear PTA President,

I would like to share with you about an ongoing opportunity to help raise funds for your school! CReATE STUDIO has launched the "Win/Win" project to help support creativity in education, believing that art and education are highly compatible when held hand in hand. To that end CReATE gives $1.00 of each client's studio fee attached to a school appointed project back to that school!

School projects are a fundamental building block to the hands on process of learning. Though the project criteria may be specific, the ideas that bring it to life come from the heart of the creator-the student. In an effort to foster that process and expand on the wonder that can accompany it, CReATE provides innumerable new and recycled materials to challenge this process while building a winning project.

Please consider asking your teachers to remember CReATE STUDIO when classroom projects need a creative environment rich in materials one might not find at home. It is always a win-win when the community and the schools work together for the greater good of the child.

Sincerely,

Jemma Wildermuth
Owner/ CReATE STUDIO

About the STUDIO...

CReATE STUDIO is a welcoming, walk in, help yourself art studio geared toward creative exploration using a varied array of recycled, artistic and crafty materials. All ages can create treasured masterpieces using many interesting and everyday household materials to build, tape, glue, paint and invent! No two creations are alike. Marvel as self esteem and problem solving skills are fostered through this creative process.

Launched in 2009, CReATE STUDIO began as many things do, as an idea. This idea contained the notion that creativity is part of our innate nature to express ourselves. The STUDIO was established to offer a means to connect with that aspect of ourselves and to share it with others in a setting where everyone is WOW worthy!
